

SIGN ANGLO-FRENCH LOAN CONTRACT

Lord Reading Thanks the Syndicate for Their Co-operation

SPEAKS OF SECOND LOAN

Matter of Supplemental Credit
Will Be Placed Before Bankers
on Return of Commission

COMMITTEE CONTROL BUYING

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The $500,000 Anglo-French credit loan contract was signed late today. Three words "Reading of Erlagh" from a pen in the hand of Lord Reading, chairman of the Anglo-French commission, bound the British empire to its terms.

France was bound by the signatures of Octave Homberg and Ernest Mallet, her representatives on the commission. Last of all J. P. Morgan affixed his name in behalf of the American syndicate of underwriters.

Immediately thereafter four witnesses attested the signatures one of them being Basil B. Blackett, secretary of the commission. The other three were American lawyers who assisted in drawing up the document.

Reading Thanks Syndicate.
Arising from the seat which he occupied at the head of the long oval table, Lord Reading thanked the syndicate for their co-operation in accomplishing his task.

Within a couple of months Lord Reading said, negotiations probably will be begun looking toward the creation of the supplemental loan already forecast. It is expected that this loan will be for approximately $250,000,000. Whether it would be another bond offering or an arrangement of a different sort was a detail yet to be settled, he said. When they reached home the members of the commission will place the situation before the bankers in England and the matter will then be decided on.

England Must Sanction Purchases.
Of the millions of dollars spent daily in this country by the allies for war supplies, not a dollar, it was learned authoritatively today, can be spent without first obtaining the official sanction of the British government.

This sanction is obtained from a committee sitting in London and holding frequent sessions. Although the committee has been in operation for many months its existence has not heretofore been generally known outside of governmental circles. Only once, so far as can be learned, and then in the case of Russia, has the mandate of this body been disregarded.

The personnel of this committee has never been published and probably never will be. It consists, however, of representatives from each of the allied nations, from Great Britain to Montenegro, controls absolutely the purchase of all war supplies in whatever section of the world they may be bought, acts as a financial check and supervisor over the war chests of all the allies and seeks to eliminate positively competitive bidding on the part of the allies for war supplies in the open markets of the world, first of all in the United States.

Designated by French Title.
Over purchases made in home markets by the various nations, the committee holds no supervision. Its sphere is limited strictly to purchases outside the boundary lines of the nations at war and their colonies. The committee is designated by a French title, the English translation of which is "The International War Supplies Committee."

Under its guidance, Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy in seeking munitions of war in the United States and other supplies refraining from competition in bidding. Such competition if permitted, the committee realized early in its career, would result in sending prices of munitions and other supplies to prohibitive levels and would consequently swell the cost of conducting the war proportionately. Instead of coming into the American market when supplies are needed and waging a financial contest for supremacy in obtaining the supplies, the allies adopt a system of placing one big order at a time in this country. When the contract for this order is signed the next allied nation's needs are taken up and another contract placed. This system is maintained until all the allied nations' purchasing supplies here are cared for.

The only time the committee's plan failed of operation was about six months ago and the effects of the failure have not yet been eradicated. This was in connection with purchases by Russia in the United States.

JOLIET MAN HEADS ILLINOIS BANKERS

W. S. REARICK OF ASHLAND IS ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT

J. A. S. Pollard Tells Bankers That Arrangement for Peace Is the Greatest Duty of the American People Now.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 15.—Arrangement for peace, this is the greatest duty of the American people, now, according to J. A. S. Pollard at Fort Madison, Iowa, who spoke in favor of preparedness today at the convention of the Illinois Bankers' association in session here.

"Our greatest duty of the present hour is to prepare for a greater victory of peace, by fortifying our heritage and preparing to speak with authority," he asserted. "American may thank God that we have in the White House a man who is courageous enough to stand for brotherliness between nations and yet patriotic enough to see the country's peril and prepare to guard it against its possible foe."

John Fletcher, vice-president of the Fort Dearborn National Bank of Chicago, declared that the civilized world is now looking to the United States for a large production of the staples of life. He pointed out the necessity of preparing to meet a demand which, combined with other influences, might threaten the national existence he averred.

Confidence in business relations was urged by S. M. Hastings, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, who asserted that the only legislation needed in this country at the present time was the passage of a protective tariff law. Mr. Hastings emphasized the necessity of a closer co-operation between employer and employee. Good will and co-operation are essential to full prosperity, he declared.

RETURNED MISSIONARY TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN TURKEY

Rev. James P. McNaughton Reviews the Magnitude of the Struggle in Which the Ottoman Empire is Engaged.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—A returned missionary from Turkey told the delegates to the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention tonight something of the condition of the Ottoman empire in war times and pleaded that aid be sent to Christian Armenia, where extermination faced the remnants of a race centuries old.

The speaker was the Rev. James P. McNaughton and early in his speech he reviewed the magnitude of the struggle in which Turkey is engaged. "I do not believe," he said, "that the people of any other nation now engaged in the war have been called upon to make such unusual sacrifices. All Ottoman subjects at the outbreak of the war were called upon to contribute twenty-five per cent. of all their movable possessions except household furniture. Today what is left of this mighty kingdom is fighting for its life. Wherever our sympathies may be centered we cannot but admire the bravery of the armies that are guarding what remains of the national internal inheritance."

Turning to the Armenians the speaker said: "As a result in some strange way of this tragic struggle the racial life of one of the most virile nations of the Orient is threatened. There can be no doubt about the great qualities of the Armenian race. That there should be a vestige of this people left after what it has endured through centuries of opposition is one of the miracles of history. "For the crime of standing up for its inalienable rights a systematic attempt is now being made to so decimate its people that never again will be equalled."

SHOOTING AFFRAY STOPS CANVASS

One is Killed and Four Wounded in Charleston, S. C., Fight

MILITIA RESTORES ORDER

Trouble Grows Out of Bitter Campaign—Three Ballot Boxes
Are Thrown Out of Window

SIX ARRESTS ARE MADE

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 15.—A shooting affray in which one man was killed and four others were wounded broke up a meeting of the democratic city executive committee here today at which the votes of last Tuesday's municipal primary were to have been canvassed.

A national guard company with fixed bayonets, helped the police to restore order and tonight was still patrolling streets around the office building in which the trouble occurred.

Reporter is Killed.

Sidney J. John, a reporter for the Charleston Evening Post, was shot through the lung and killed, W. A. Turner, an insurance agent, and W. E. Wingate, superintendent of the city chain gang, were seriously hurt, while H. L. Wilesky, a city meter inspector, and Jeremiah O'Brien, inspector of weights and measures and a member of the executive committee, received minor bullet wounds.

It was not clear tonight just who did the shooting which occurred during a general fight in a hallway adjoining the committee room. Six arrests were made but no specific charge was preferred against any of the prisoners. John is said to have been walking toward a window when the fatal shot struck him.

Result of Bitter Campaign.

Today's trouble grew out of a bitter campaign which ended last Tuesday in a primary held while several companies of national guard were kept in readiness to suppress possible disorders.

The election day passed quietly and the guardsmen were dispersed Wednesday. Followers of Mayor John P. Grace, an aspirant for renomination, charged that Governor Manning by sending troops was trying to interfere with the primary, thereby favoring the candidacy of Grace's opponent, Tristram T. Hyde.

Unofficial tabulations of the returns showed that Hyde had been nominated by a majority of 19 out of more than 6,000 cast. The case of more than 100 contested votes was to have been settled today by the executive committee.

Throw Ballot Boxes Out of Window.
Just as the meeting was called to order, however, someone in the hallway started a fight. After some scuffling several pistols were brought into play and, amid the scramble to escape, three ballot boxes were thrown out of the window.

When the shooting was heard trouble was threatened for a time in the crowd outside. The extra force of police held the crowd in check while a hurry call was sent for the troops.

The ballot boxes thrown from the windows were recovered and as far as known tonight none of the boxes in the room was missing. All of the men arrested are said to have been active in the interests of Hyde. They are Max Goldman, a marine engineer; H. J. Brown, ice wagon driver; Edward McDonald, stevedore; J. J. Haly, former police sergeant; Conrad Stender, deputy sheriff, and J. H. Steenken, keeper of a cemetery.

It was said tonight the votes would be canvassed tomorrow.

WILSON APPROVES PLANS FOR DEFENSE

Army Program Calls for Augmenting Regular
Army to 140,000 Men

O.K. DANIELS' PROPOSAL

Naval Construction Program for the First of the Five Years is Decided on at Conference

WOULD CREATE NEW ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The administration program for national defense to be recommended to the forthcoming session of congress, proposing a total expenditure on the army and navy next year of about $400,000,000, was practically completed tonight.

Would Create New Army.

Secretary Garrison's plan, approved by the president calls for an increase of $75,000,000 in the war department's annual appropriation to be used for augmenting the regular men and the creation of a new continental army of 400,000 men which together with the militia of 125,000 would give the United States a military force in time of need of 665,000. Approval was also given today to the proposal of Secretary Daniels and the general board of the navy for a five year naval construction program to cost $500,000,000, including the navy ten new dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers as well as more than 70 submarines, fifty destroyers, ten scout cruisers and a host of auxiliary ships.

Decide on Building Program.

After the conference of Secretary Daniels, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and the general board adjourned at midnight, it became known that the following naval construction program for the first five years had been decided upon:

Two dreadnaughts, two battle cruisers, twelve coast submarines, twelve destroyers, an increase of 8,000 in personnel and an augmentation by 250 of the naval academy student body.

Secretary Garrison has carefully guarded his plan for strengthening the military establishment and organizing a great continental army for defense and practically nothing was known of it until tonight. The program proposes:

First: Regular army, 140,000 men, an increase of more than 50,000 men in the present establishment.

Second: A continental army, 400,000 strong enlisted for six years for service within the continental United States. These men would serve two months a year for the first three years with the colors, undergoing a period of intensive training. A remaining three years they would be on furlough, subject to call in time of need.

Increases in the regular establishment contemplated are:

Infantry—Ten regiments.
Field artillery—Four regiments.
Coast artillery—Fifty-two regiments.

Coast artillery—Fifty-two companies.

It is estimated that 40,000 of the 540,000 men thus provided would be non-combatants at the medical corps or other auxiliary forces not included in the fighting line.

Might Augment National Guard.

Behind this army would be the National Guard now some 125,000 strong, but whose numbers might be substantially augmented by the organization of the continental army. The plans contemplate the transfer of such national guard officers and men as desire it into the continental army, and more liberal treatment of the guardsmen would be urged and increase of these state forces encouraged in every possible way.

Increases in the regular establishment contemplated are:

Infantry—Ten regiments.
Field artillery—Four regiments.
Coast artillery—Fifty-two companies.

Engineer corps—Fifteen companies.

Aviation corps—Two detachments. All of these new commands would be organized at peace strength.

Adequate supplies of small arms and field guns sand howitzers and of reserve ammunition for the enlarged establishment would be sought.

Three plan is erected on the theory that the nation must depend upon a citizen army, largely of a volunteer character in time of war.

ENGLAND DECLARES WAR ON BULGARIA

INFORMS BULGARIAN GOVERNMENT
THROUGH SWEDISH MINISTER

No Indication of Victories or Reverses That Would Make a Marked Change in the General Situation Comes from Any of the Battle Fronts.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Great Britain has declared war on Bulgaria. The British foreign office announces that in view of the fact that Bulgaria has announced she is at war with Serbia and is an ally of the central powers, his majesty's government has informed the Bulgarian government through the Swedish minister at London, who is in charge of Bulgarian interests, that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Bulgaria as from 10 p. m.

Indicate No Marked Change.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—From all the main battle fronts came news of continued fighting, but from none of them has been received any indication of victories or reverses which would make a marked change in the general situation.

The Austrians, Germans and Bulgarians are proceeding methodically with their invasion of Serbia, which, according to neutral reports is costing them a very heavy price in the lives of their soldiers as the hardened veterans of Serbia are taking every advantage of the difficult country to inflict the greatest possible loss on the invaders.

Germans Occupy Pozarevac.

The Germans, however, have been able to occupy Pozarevac, southeast of Semendria, and claim that their campaign is proceeding according to their plans. The quadruple entente allies are perfecting their preparations to assist the Serbians every day additional troops are landed at Saloniki, where the French General Sarrail has arrived to take command of the allied forces. What steps Russia and Italy have taken to assist have not yet been developed.

The political situation remains unchanged. Greece having formally announced that she would not intervene in behalf of Serbia at present, and Roumania, although she is being urged by Germany definitely to define her position, not having made any move.

Heavy Fighting in West.

Along the western front there has been heavy fighting in the Artois, Champagne and Vosges regions. Attacks were made by both sides but the gains and losses are described as being of little importance.

In the east the Russians have turned to the offensive in the region of Dyvinsk and although the Germans claim that they have repulsed most of the Muscovite attacks they admit that the Russians penetrated their line at one point. Except for the hostilities in this region, the things are somewhat calmer in the east. Lieut. Gen. Ivanoff, the Russian commander, after his victory in Galicia and the subsequent check by the Germans, having for the moment shown himself satisfied with what he achieved.

Italians Claim Successes.

The Italians have again been on the offensive and claim to have gained some successes against the Austrians. The Austrians however, deny this statement.

Outside the Balkan campaign, England is watching with the most interest the operations of her submarines in the Baltic. Here, after having driven the German merchantmen from the sea they have sunk one and probably two German torpedo craft, one reported to be a torpedo boat destroyer and the other a torpedo boat which with other warships had come out to convoy ore-laden steamers. Activity of the British navy also is shown in the North Sea. The report shows that 34 German trawlers have been captured and taken into Grimsby during the month.

CONFEREES WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

Will Arrange Form in Which Recognition Will Be Extended Carranza

AWAIT FORMAL WORD

Lansing Will Call Meeting as Soon as Formal Assurances
Come from Brazil and Chile

CARRANZA DENIES REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary Lansing will call a conference next week of the Pan-American diplomats to arrange the form in which recognition is to be extended to the de facto government led by General Carranza.

Although formal responses have not yet been received by the Brazilian and Chilean ambassadors here to the reports sent to their governments last week after their decision to recognize Carranza, informal assurances were given in advance of the conference to diplomatic representatives of the United States in Santiago and Rio de Janeiro that Chile and Brazil were in accord with the policy of the Washington government. As soon as word is received in a formal manner through the Brazilian and Chilean ambassadors here the meeting of the Pan-American conference will be called. The Argentine ambassador and the Uruguayan minister saw Secretary Lansing today. Both had received instructions to adopt the same form of recognition as the United States does. The Bolivian and Guatemalan ministers, the remaining members of the conference, have had similar instructions. Although not a member of the conference, the Venezuelan minister, together with other diplomatic representatives has been instructed to take identical action with the United States.

The formal act of recognition probably will occur next week with the reception of Elizeo Arredondo, authorized representative of General Carranza. A note very likely will be presented to him notifying him of the recognition of General Carranza as the head of the de facto government.

Reports today of activity by Carranza adherents in fomenting a revolution in Guatemala met with prompt denial at the Carranza agency. It was announced that after conferences between Elizeo Arredondo and the Guatemalan minister here the subject had been brought to the attention of General Carranza, who, after investigating reported that none of his men were involved and that on the contrary, there had been reports of activity against his forces begun from the Guatemalan side of the line. An embargo on exportation of arms from both countries is about to be put into effect which is believed will remedy the situation.

"Mail advices from Monterey state that General Jacinto Trevino continues in chief command there and is maintaining good order.

"Passenger service between Vera Cruz and Mexico City has been suspended for a few days on account of efforts being concentrated on the moving of freight."

"The department is informed that one of the agents of General Villa who wired the general regarding the confiscation of foreign property received the following from him on the night of the 13th:

"Your telegram of today, I thank you for your information which I esteem as sincere but you should not have any fears because it is not true that orders have been given to confiscate foreign properties."

Training the Hands.

The late George Pullman believed in the training of the hand as well as the mind and the Pullman free school for manual training which will be opened in Chicago Monday will attest that fact. The school contains a model home in the shape of a flat, in which students will take up their residence by fours for two weeks at a time to learn home making under actual conditions. The school furnishes a course of four years. By the terms of the bequest, the institution is for the benefit of the children of persons living in or employed in Pullman.

Sherman Strong For Preparedness.

Senator L. V. Sherman in his address at the Woman's college yesterday made strong declaration for preparedness against war. He said that this country does not need an army and navy and equipment for territorial expansion but simply as a means of defense. The senator said that it was foolish to talk about the vast army which could be raised here on short notice for such an army would be helpless without training and equipment. "You cannot match chivalry and bare fists against airships, submarines and noxious gases," the senator said, "and the modern ways of warfare have changed the whole aspect of things." It was pointed out that one cannot foretell what changes may come as the result of the great war and that the only wise course is for this country to prepare to meet emergencies.

There is sound logic in the arguments advanced by Senator Sherman and others who are seeking to enact measures in congress which will result in definite steps being taken for increasing the army and navy and the general defenses of the country. "In time of peace prepare for war" might properly be changed to read, "In time of peace prepare to meet any enemy that may come."

Helping European Labor

Toys "Made in Germany" and valued at $65,000,000 have been released from embargo and will be landed in this country. As a consequence, $165,000,000 of good American money will go to Europe to pay the workers and furnishers of material. The same Santa Claus who brings the toys here will take the money there. All of which would not be at all unfortunate were it not for the fact that there are plenty of people in these United States ready and anxious to make articles that are entirely suitable for Christmas gifts. It is estimated that every dollar spent for labor is turned over ten times a year. The laborer pays his grocery bill, the grocer pays the wholesaler, the wholesaler pays the manufacturer, the manufacturer pays for his labor and materials, the factory employs buys a suit of clothes, the clothing merchant pays the money to his clerk, the clerk buys a theater ticket, the theater manager pays the actor, who in turn, spends the money for board and clothes. Thus the money goes on its mission, giving profitable employment to an endless chain of individuals. But if that dollar is sent to Europe, it renders its service to an endless chain of Europeans. Instead of an endless chain of Americans. And that makes some difference. The difference constitutes the reason for a protective tariff.

England and Protection.

Seattle Post-Intelligencer: Free trade theories in England have been badly shattered by the war and some of its results. It is fairly certain that a modified form of protective tariff will be established in England, ostensibly as a war measure, which will remain long after peace is established. The reports of recent debates in parliament show how rapidly this sentiment is spreading. Declaring himself to have always been a free trader, the Earl of Cromer asserted that the time had come when indirect taxation ought to be imposed and the least objectionable form of indirect taxation would be a low duty upon all imports, whether manufactured or unmanufactured, raw material or food.

In England the protectionists have always advocated a duty on bread imported from abroad, for the purpose of making the country more nearly self-sustaining. By bringing back under cultivation in grain many thousands of acres which have gone into grass during the past generations. Now all England has discovered that it is of great importance to increase the production of its foodstuffs and it is reported that it is sought to encourage a larger wheat acreage by guaranteeing the grower a minimum price for his product. A duty on grain would accomplish a like result, in addition to bringing in needed revenue, and it is seen that free traders are now recognizing the value of the proposed protection.

The fact that Germany has proved self-sustaining, despite the closing of her ports to trade with the outside world, is recognized in England as due to the intelligent manner in which the protective tariff principle has been applied in that country. England is dependent on other nations for her food; and if it had not been for her naval superiority and the fact that she has kept her commerce alive, she would have been beaten by starvation before this.

The Wicked Railroads.

Though increasing tolerance toward railroads and railroad policies is apparent on every hand, the bitter critic is still abroad in the land in many states at least the railroad lobby seems almost a necessity to protect the corporations from hasty legislation and "gray wolf" measures. Railroad abusers might find profit in which the wrath of Providence is invoked against railway builders—just as biblical authority has been appealed to suppress inventions, discredit discoveries and keep organs out of churches. As quoted in Richards' "Industrial Problems" the school board of Lancaster, O., in 1828 refused to permit the school building to be used for the discussion of the question as to whether the railroads were a good and beneficial improvement. "You are welcome to use the school house to discuss all proper questions," enjoined the members of the Lancaster board, "but such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossibilities and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the word of God about them. If God had designed that his intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful rate of speed of fifteen miles per hour by steam. He would have foretold it through His Holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to lead immortal souls down to Hell."

WEDDING ANNOUNCED.

REV. E. D. MARTIN IS TO SOON WED AGAIN

RUMOR THAT HE IS TO MARRY DES MOINES TEACHER.

Former Unitarian Pastor, Now Editorial Writer on New York Globe Will Wed Miss Persis Rowell—Mrs. Martin Secured Divorce a Month Ago.

According to the Des Moines papers, Rev. E. D. Martin, late pastor of the Unitarian church of Des Moines, but now an editorial writer on the New York Globe, is soon to wed Miss Persis Rowell, a teacher in a private school at Des Moines. Rev. Mr. Martin was sued for a divorce by his wife and she was granted alimony by the courts in the trial Sept. 15 in which Mr. Martin did not contest the divorce proceedings. Rev. Mr. Martin graduated from Illinois college with the class of 1904 and later took a course in McCormick seminary. He married Miss Esther Kirk, formerly of Jacksonville.

The Des Moines Capital in speaking of the report says: "Miss Persis Rowell, 451 Twenty-ninth street, last year a member of the faculty of a private school, and a leading member of the First Unitarian church, will be married in New York soon to the Rev. Everett Dean Martin, former pastor of the Unitarian church, according to the report current today.

"The wedding, dame rumor says, is scheduled to take place within the next three weeks. Miss Rowell will leave for the east Friday night.

"Miss Rowell refused to deny or affirm the report of her engagement to Dr. Martin, when interviewed by representatives of the Capital. "I will leave Friday night for Great Barrington, Mass., for a visit with my aunt, Mrs. Horace A. White," said Miss Rowell. "I expect to be gone the entire fall. Further than that, I have nothing to say."

Avoids Discussion.

"When urged to discuss the rumor of her approaching marriage, Miss Rowell asked to be excused and requested that the above be taken as her only reply.

"The Rev. Martin was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Esther K. Martin, in the district court here only three weeks ago—September 15. Judge Dudley granted the divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Martin told the court Dr. Martin left her at home alone night after night, seemingly not caring for her companionship.

In Dudley's Court.

"She further told Judge Dudley that although she and Dr. Martin occupied the same home they had lived apart for two years. "Judge Dudley granted $10,000 permanent alimony. She asked for $50,000. Until the alimony is paid, Judge Dudley ordered Dr. Martin to pay six per cent interest thereon. She was given the custody of their three children and $75 a month additional alimony to care for and educate them until they are of age. The allowance will then be cut to $25 a month.

"The children are Mary, aged 7, Margaret, aged 6, and Betty aged 3. "Dr. Martin left Des Moines several months ago, before Mrs. Martin filed her petition for divorce. He is now an editorial writer for the New York Globe. He did not contest the divorce."

Editorial Comment.

The Des Moines Evening Tribune speaking editorially of the affair under the caption of "Martin and Sunday" says:

"It will be recalled that Everett Dean Martin was especially severe on Billy Sunday when he visited Des Moines asserting that his visit would lower the social tone of the community and destroy all interest in the intellectual side of religion. "Now that it is known that Mr. Martin at the time was abandoning his family and that his three little girls are left by him to the cold mercies of an unfeeling world, the friends of Mr. Sunday are likely to recall Colonel Young's remark, that if Billy had done nothing else in Des Moines he had made it popular for men to kiss their wives.

"Billy Sunday, brought up in an orphan asylum, thrown on his own resources at 12, taking all the hard knocks of life, a professional sort, raises a large family in the best of surroundings, puts "Me" forward at every opportunity, preaches a gospel of better homes, and makes it a little easier for boys and girls to be better born, better bred and better cared for in this cold world of ours. "This may not be a complete programme for the religious life of an intellectual community, but it is a mighty good basis on which to build an enduring human society. "There is still something about the old fashioned moralities that is worth taking into account."

DR. G. W. MILLER WAS HOST TO TEMPLAR BROTHERS

Veteran Physician Royally Entertained Members of Hospitalier Commandery at Dinner—A Presentation and a Reply.

Friday, Oct. 15th, will surely be a red letter day in the memory of genial, whole souled Dr. G. W. Miller of Woodson, veteran physician, pastor, preacher, Master Mason, Royal Arch, Sir Knight, kind neighbor, devoted friend and loyal citizen. No one is more devoted to his friends than the doctor and Masonry has a more loyal and enthusiastic member than he. He is true to his noble teachings and tries in his life to live fully up to its grand precepts. He loves to attend the meetings of the orders both here as far as the commandery and at Springfield where the higher orders to which he belongs meet.

He is a princely entertainer as all who have the privilege of his generous hospitality can well testify. For some time he has been rearing a choice lot of young chickens and he some time ago decided when the fowls were ripe for the frying pan his Sir Knight fraters would have the pleasure of a genuine chicken-fry-oyster-supper. To think was to act and Friday evening, Oct. 15th, was named the day and an invitation was sent to the members of Hospitalier Commandery No. 31, and a few other special guests. They collected in goodly numbers at the worthy doctor's home in Woodson and as the evening shadows gathered the place presented an animated scene.

Everything possible was done for the pleasure and welfare of the guests and nothing seemed lacking to make the occasion a complete success.

After all had assembled Hon. John J. Reeve asked for order and presenting the host two magnificent wreaths of flowers, the gifts of the guests said substantially: "Dr. Miller, the occasion this evening is no common event. Life is sweet for it has its compensations as we move along and we have met here this evening to show our appreciation of you as a Sir Knight, a brother and a friend. We have here a slight token of our esteem and good will, something which will in a slight manner indicate the love we bear one so worthy of our esteem. When one passes away all his mistakes and errors are forgotten and friends hasten to place on his casket beautiful flowers and proceed to extol his virtues but we feel that while these deeds are all right, far more fitting is it to bestow the flowers, not on a lifeless body, not on one who cannot enjoy their fragrance but rather to give them while the recipient whom we all admire and esteem so highly may fully enjoy them. Accept then from the Sir Knights of Hospitalier Commandery this humble token of our esteem and let us hope that as the years go by our love will grow stronger and more beautiful even as these flowers we now offer you."

The gift was a complete surprise to the doctor and for a moment his emotions almost overcame him but he said in part: Beloved Sir Knights Words fail to express by feeling on this occasion. I do indeed thank you from my inmost heart for this lovely token of your esteem. The ties that bind us as Sir Knights are of no common order. We meet here in the asylum under the banner of the cross of King Immanuel and as such should be loyal to Him whom we claim to serve. Most happy am I to greet you here tonight, to grasp your hands and look into the faces which betoken love and esteem. As Sir Knights I earnestly trusts we shall be true to the teachings of the order and ever be ready to draw the sword in defense of our principles and to stand firmly by them in every hour of trial.

Then came the supper. Every thing in this line was perfection. Miss Marie Megginson, the doctor's niece and housekeeper, devised the menu which was superb. The ladies who had charge of the cooking were Mrs. Clara Henry, Mrs. Sadie Gallagher, Mrs. Anna Self, Mrs. Edith Watson. The waitresses were Misses Marie Megginson, Margaret Steinmetz, Hazel Watson, and Claribel Megginson.

A social time followed the supper and finally the guests departed with many cordial good wishes for their noble host.

Most of the Sir Knights went down in automobiles as follows, the owner being named first.

FUNERAL OF JOSEPH CLAYTON IS HELD AT RESIDENCE FRIDAY

Words of Hope and Comfort Are Spoken by the Rev. R. O. Post in Simple Service—Laid to Rest in Diamond Grove, by Side of Wife.

Funeral services for Joseph Clayton were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of W. A. Jenkinson, 1249 West State street. The services were solemn, yet marked with simplicity, alike in form to the rites with which Mrs. Clayton was laid to rest early in the present year. The Rev. R. O. Post, pastor of the Congregational church, succinctly and earnestly, evaluated the life and character of the deceased, pointing out the fact that death, though it yet be death, could not have come to one better prepared to meet it.

"When such a life comes to a close," he said, "no deeds remain to be regret; none to cry for shame."

At the sermon's close Mrs. H. C. Voittman sang, in feeling manner, "The Home of the Soul." Mrs. W. L. Fay, Mrs. George S. Gay, Mrs. W. H. Saul and Miss Florence Wardhaugh cared for the flowers. Burial was made in Diamond Grove cemetery by the side of the grave of Mrs. Clayton. Those who served as bearers were W. H. Saul, George S. Gay, Frank Martin, Homer Haxby, Percy A. Jenkinson and T. C. Jenkinson.

"Strength and beauty are in Thy sanctuary," quoted the pastor from the words of the Psalmist David. Of strong convictions, unpretentious ways and sincere action, Mr. Clayton was endowed with a character of sterling strength. A deep thinker, a true friend and a man of considerable humanness, he was blessed with a spirit of the purest beauty.

The two great pillars of religious faith—how different is their view of life and death! observed the minister, reading from the prayer of Moses in the nineteenth Psalm: "For all our days are passed away in Thy wrath; we spend our years as a tale that is told" and dwelling on the victorious utterance of Paul, the apostle, in II Corinthians, 15: "O death, where is thy sting O grave, where is thy victory?"

In closing Dr. Post read a poem which was held by Mr. Clayton in high esteem:

"There is no death! The stars go down
"To rise upon some other shore,
"And bright in Heaven's jewelled crown
"They shine forevermore.

"There is no death! The leaves may fall,
"And flowers may made and pass away,
"They only wait through wintry hours
"The coming of the May.

"There is no death! An angel form
"Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
"He bears our best loved ones away
"And then we call them 'dead.'"

"Yet ever near us, though unseen,
"The dear immortal spirits tread;
"For all the boundless universe
"Is life—there are no dead."

BLOOD HOUNDS INDICATE IDENTITY OF BURGLAR

Followed Trail From A. M. Masters' Residence to Home of Willie Gray.

Sometime Thursday night a thief entered the premises of A. M. Masters at the corner of South Main street and the Vandalia road and carried off some coal. It was the second time the place had been visited, thieves entering the residence several days ago. At that time a loaf of bread, a pound of butter and other eatables were taken. On that visit the marauders set fire to a curtain while using matches.

This robbery was reported to the police and also to the anti-horse thief association. When the second robbery occurred Mr. Masters again notified the police and A. C. Reid, president of the anti-horse thief association sent to Springfield for Strumpfer's bloodhounds. The animals arrived on the morning train and were taken to the Masters' residence by their custodian and Patrolman White. They immediately took the trail and followed it without faltering directly to the home of Willie Gray, colored. Patrolman White had considerable trouble holding the animal he was in charge of and said afterward that the trip was the hardest he had ever made.

Gray was not at home when the officers arrived and though Chief Davis and Commissioner Martin spent a considerable part of the day looking for him and the other members of the police force also kept a close watch he has not as yet been apprehended. Gray's mother lives in a house on the Masters' property and it is supposed that Gray took the coal to her home. Gray is a well known character and has figured in the police courts for several years past. He seems unable to leave other peoples' property alone and has served several jail sentences for sundry minor offenses. It is probable that he will not get off so easily if he is convicted of the charge of burglary.

ENDING CAPPS WEEK AT TOMLINSON'S

This has been a record-breaking week with us, not only in the number of people who have visited the store and shown their interest in the exhibit of Capps' Clothes, but also in the fact that we have been honored by the presence of scores of school boys and girls who have been attracted by the educational exhibit pertaining to clothes making.

This is interesting to young and old, but to those who are dying industrial matters, it is especially attractive. The exhibit includes samples of "wool in the grease," wool after cleansing, wool after dyeing; and follows the processes until one sees the cloth just woven, and the same cloth after the many operations that finish it, ready for tailoring into the splendid clothes you see here on exhibition, ready for you to put on.

If anyone has missed this exhibit, we extend a cordial and urgent invitation to see it before the close of this week. We are well into the Fall Season, and you will find also a lot of interest in the splendid styles and variety of fabrics shown in our Capps' Suits and Overcoats, retailing at $15 to $25.

Come this week, if you can.

SHERMAN PAID TRIBUTE TO THE PIONEERS

ILLINOIS SENATOR MADE ADDRESS AT ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE FRIDAY.

Declared Institutions Have Lived because Founders Planned Wisely—Making Good Citizens of Aliens Country's Big Problem Today—An Appeal for Preparedness—Portrait of Judge Brown Presented—Mrs. Griffith Linked Past With Present.

Founders' Day at Illinois Woman's college was observed Friday with notable exercises. This was the seventh annual commemoration program, and in detail it was one which will long make the exercises memorable. Senator L. Y. Sherman, a trustee of the college, made the principal address, in which he emphasized the debt of the present to the past and pointed out that the present success of educational institutions is largely due to the wisdom displayed by those who laid the foundations. Mrs. Alice McElroy Griffith, the only living member of the class of 1852, was present and in a brief but very forceful address told something of the earlier days of the college and emphasized the reasons for the growth and permanency of the institution. Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Griffith is now advanced in years, her sentences were perfectly phrased, and the thought expressed was so succinct and concise that the address made a remarkable impression upon the large audience which had gathered in Music Hall for the program of the morning.

Portrait of Judge Brown. Another notable feature of the day was the presentation to the college of a portrait of Hon. William Brown, who was a member of the board of trustees appointed in 1846 to establish the college. He was secretary of the board for three years and continued as trustee until 1854. When in 1853 the college secured its third charter, he became a charter member of the board and served until 1871. Judge Brown it is recorded was one of the most generous friends the college had in its earlier days and his gift of $5,000 in 1865 was only one of a number of contributions that he made to the institution. The portrait, done in oil and handsomely framed, occupied a prominent position on the platform yesterday and was presented with appropriate words by his daughter, Mrs. Susie Finley Brown Dillon, of Topeka, Kan., who graduated from the college in the class of 1875. Mrs. Dillon has been an alumnae trustee of the college since 1911. The service of the morning included the organ voluntary played by Director Henry V. Stearns, and a vocal solo, "The Lord is my Light," by Mrs. Florence Pierson Hartmann. The doxology was sung and scripture selections were read by President Harker, who also introduced each of the speakers in a fitting way. When Mrs. Griffith's address had been concluded, seven young women graduates of the college were presented to serve as her attendants during the day. They were dressed in costumes representative of the long ago and the number seven was significant in that Mrs. Griffith's class was numerically the same. These young women were Mrs. Bess Mathers Goebel, Mrs. Earl Wiswell, Miss Stella Shuff, Miss Mary Louise Powell, Miss Irwa Elliott, Mrs. Elizabeth Tompkins, and Mrs. H. C. Gay.

Our Debt to Pioneers. Senator Sherman referred to the great debt which we owe the founders and sought to show the difference in the conditions under which they labored by giving anecdotes of the service of pioneer preachers. He declared that the methods these men used in those days were necessary because of the conditions and surroundings they met, and that while conditions have changed, and that the responsibility and the work which confronts us at present are none the less important. Senator Sherman said that the question of making good American citizens out of all the immigrants who are coming to this country is possibly the greatest problem which confronts us. In the closing sentences of his address Senator Sherman made a strong appeal for preparedness and at the same time made it clear that the United States' program of preparedness meant simply the desire of this country to take care of itself in any time of danger and did not include any thought of expansion of territory and possessions.

Following the exercises in Music Hall, all gathered for a group picture which was taken in front of the main college building. Then a cafeteria luncheon was served outdoors and more than an hour spent in a delightful social way. This was followed by a conference of the officers and friends of the college held in the chapel room. There was had an open discussion of the needs of the college and the exact conditions were pointed out. Almost every person present had something to say, and there was a unanimity of expression that the friends of the institution must rally to its support and secure the additional funds that are needed if the college is to meet its full destiny and measure up with the educational opportunities that are at hand. President Harker told of the record of the past seven years since the full college work had been adopted and these statistics indicate a remarkable growth. The number of students at the college this year is greater than ever before and there are one hundred and twenty new students enrolled for the freshman work. With such increases in the number of students there comes the need for larger facilities, and there must be more room for housing students and especially for laboratories and other instructional rooms. The increasing interest in the study of scientific subjects makes a great demand for the increased laboratory space.

In his address Senator Sherman said in part:

Good Foundation.

"These institutions that have survived are the ones well founded, built along the best lines of character and educational architecture. These are the institutions founded by men who knew what they wished to accomplish, for foundations large or small, if right, will furnish the groundwork for substantial progress. This college here was founded on such a basis and represents the hopes and aspirations of many. These founders might seem a bit quaint if brought before us today and their appearance might provoke a smile, but only for a moment, as we would recognize the characteristics of the men prominent in religious and educational work in those days. If we remember how they lived, we can understand why their actions were different from men of like standing in the present day. They were not surrounded by luxuries, the things that they met were wild and elemental. The preachers of those days had to be strong physically. They had to be able to walk and ride and swim. I remember reading an incident in the life of Father Leonard, a pioneer preacher whose home was in Monroe county. It is related that in the dead of winter on one of his journeys he came to a river, and as he had but one suit of clothes, he carefully wrapped that in a bundle and tied it on his horse's head with a piece of grapevine in such a way that it was kept from the water and so in condition to put on after the owner had braved the chilly waters and crossed to the other side. Those ministers of that day gave us sturdy orthodox preaching. There was nothing of the effeminate about it, no raveled out religion, no refinements of language, and the audiences were given a clear understanding of what the future life might mean if they did not repent.

Working With the Hands.

"I wish that the people of our time could get it out of their heads that it is not honorable to labor with the hands. When I was a boy I did not like laboring with the hands as well as I do now, but in these later years I have recognized what that labor did for me. I have recently completed a journey from coast to coast and was impressed with the fact that on all that stretch of road practically every gang of section men was made up of foreigners. The reason is that we Americans are growing up to object to labor with our hands. I believe in mental training, of course, but with it should go manual training, teaching the hand as well as the brain. And from the combination of these two will come the best educational results. For the same reason I believe in the study of domestic sciences.

"And while our forefathers faced great and elemental problems, we today face a problem just as great and just as elemental, in that we must Americanize the vast number of people who come to us from other lands. They have come to us for varying reasons, and this country represents to them the greatest possibilities. It is to this and other colleges that we must look largely for the influence which will help fuse all these races in the great melting pot of our civilization. When we make a political campaign of Illinois, in order to reach the voters it is necessary to print letter or document in seven different languages, and if one is to reach the twenty-five millions voters of the whole United States, still a greater number of languages must be used. So I say that the work in which educational institutions must engage is in aiding this fusing process. Peter Cartwright and his associates fought against fire and wind and flood; and while our problem is different, it is as I say just as elemental."

Anecdotes of Earlier Days. Mr. Sherman then made reference to the tenth conference of Methodists in this state at Union Grove. There the question was debated as to whether or not it was proper for a Methodist minister to wear a plain, straight breasted coat, and the recorded vote was twenty-one to eleven in favor of the coat. It is recorded that Cartwright was against this proposition, possibly because he did not possess such a garment. A Mrs. Scott came into church prominence at that time because of a complaint she made against a girl who had had the temerity to wear a dress with sleeves which reached only to the elbow. The conference, however did not see fit to take any action in this matter, as they doubtless considered that young women were somewhat subject to the frailties of their mother Eve. It is related too, that a class leader about that time filed complaint with Bishop McKendree against a young minister whom it was said was corrupting the youth of the community. When asked for particulars it developed that the young minister was charged with wearing "galluses" and so was considered to be leading the boys into habits which tended toward thinking of earthly matters rather than of those things more important.

"These incidents amount to little except as they give a human touch to conditions and feelings of those earlier days. It is written in Cartwright's biography that he had traveled as a preacher for sixty-five years and that he had lost but six months out of that time because of ill health on his own part or any of his family. He says, too, at the same time that he had seven children, fifty grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren. I wish that Roosevelt had lived at that time. I especially wished this a year or two ago when he was after some of us in the Republican party. At one time during Cartwright's ministry there was a great deal of talk about re-writing the constitution of the state mainly for the purpose of incorporating in it an article making possible human slavery.

Cartwright and the Boatman.

"Cartwright in his travels one day came to a ferry boat landing where quite a goodly company was being addressed by the ferryman, who was making a speech in favor of the proposed amendment and incidentally severely attacking Cartwright for his opposition to the proposal. The ferryman expressed the hope that he might some day meet Cartwright, when he proposed to give him a sound thrashing. Cartwright said nothing, but when the speech was over, engaged the services of the ferryman to take him across. In the middle of the stream he told the ferryman who he was and suggested that the ferryman recant. The militant minister said he did not want simply an apology, but instead a change of ideas about slavery and the Methodist church. The ferryman, who was an athletic fellow, had no objection to a personal encounter and it speedily followed, with the result that the minister held the ferryman over the side of the boat until he almost strangled in the water and was willing not only to "take back" what he had said about slavery and the church, but repeated several times the Lord's Prayer, which he had never before heard, and agreed to say it every morning all the rest of his life. That was a muscular religion that wouldn't do now, but the incident is indicative of the surroundings under which the pioneer ministers labored and the opposition they had to meet and conquer. Another incident told concerned Rev. Mr. Mitchell, who was a circuit rider all through the western states. Once his travels took him to Detroit, where he visited a church which had some modern improvements including a choir. Musical instruments had a place in this organization, and the preacher who had never before seen a bass viol, said at first he thought it was a fiddle grown up. When the services began and the musician started to tune up the bass viol, the minister called from the pulpit in no uncertain tone "Stop that ugly fiddle until we get through worshipping God." That is the only recorded instance so far as I know when trouble in a choir was settled as speedily and effectively, for you know that the jokes about choirs are just as numerous as about mothers-in-law. And in this matter of jokes, just as in other affairs, there is nothing new under the sun. I remember when I was a young man hearing a story related which was so amusing that I laughed until my stomach ached and I thought how brilliant the relator was. Then some years afterward in looking through some old volumes I found this same story published in a book printed in London in 1622, and no doubt it might have been traced back through centuries before if one had access to libraries. I have related the incidents and referred to the men and circumstances of those days because when I think of Founders' Day I like to think in the terms of men who were here then, and if possible to see things in the light in which they saw them."

The Need of Preparedness.

"I believe in military preparedness, which does not mean a policy to conquer peoples or to add more territory, but a preparedness limited to our use for defensive purposes. No one knows what the future holds for us after the world emerges from this present maelstrom of war. Possibly some of the smaller nations should be protected and allowed to work out their own destiny in the way which seems best to them. The smaller countries of the world have made vast contributions toward human liberty during the past one hundred years. Think of the great loss there would be to art and to literature and science if the contributions made by Holland and Switzerland and Belgium in the past were taken away. Holland preceded by a hundred years all other nations in teaching the lessons of Republican government. England took precedence before us in choosing the right position on the slavery question. In all that we do let us plan to help make our country's history better, and while we grant there may be some blots on our proud escutcheon, let us hope that all future conduct will be such that our history will be redeemed most nobly."

The Past and Present.

Mrs. Alice McElroy Griffith was introduced and said: "As I stand here in the wreck of time and look about these great and pleasant buildings and meet the cultured and capable teachers and see these many students, and see Dr. Harker, that dominant presence, assisting and directing along every line I see that progress has been made. I recognize that earnest work and Divine help stand behind all progress. Then memory touches my heart as I think of the college in 1851 and '52 when I was a student here and that was sixty-three or sixty-four years ago. And in memory I meet the class of seven girls. One of them was a poetess, another was a musician, and the other five as I remember, were simply earnest, honest workers. President J. F. Jacques was a man of sterling worth and abiding faith, and laid the foundation for this college in the solid rock, with Jesus Christ as the chief corner-stone. I might contrast the past with the present, but that would not be helpful and today we are all one in hope and in joy, and I congratulate the people of the state and the nation for the opportunity offered by this college for the uplift and advancement of woman-kind."

A Long Time Temperance Worker. Mrs. Ella Yates Orr of Pittsfield, was then introduced as a woman who had done much to advance the cause of temperance and who had recently been honored by election to the general Methodist conference. Mrs. Orr said that she had worn the white badge of the W. C. T. U. for a long time and had served as president of the Pittsfield union for twenty-seven years. She believed that she could say with modesty that influences had gone forth from the Pittsfield union during that time which had helped in the battle for temperance which had made such wonderful advances. She expressed the hope that the day might not be far distant when state-wide prohibition would prevail in Illinois, and the state take its rank with the nineteen others now with prohibition laws. Mrs. Orr also expressed her pleasure that the conference by its action had made it possible for women to attend the general M. E. conference as delegates and that now, as she stated it, the women of the church were recognized as laymen.

TRUSTEES AUTHORIZE PLANS FOR RAISING NEEDED FUNDS

Seventy Five Thousand Dollars Will Be Secured to Complete $200,000 Fund—Gymnasium Included in Plans.

Following the conference of the friends of the college on the needs of the institution a meeting of the trustees and conference visitors was held in the office of President Harker. The purpose of this meeting was to authorize in a definite way action on the part of the executive committee in preparing to raise the $75,000 by January 1, next, necessary to complete the $200,000 endowment fund; further, to authorize the raising of $50,000 to build, equip and maintain a gymnasium by June 1st next, and also to request the alumnae committee and the alumnae association to arrange for a proper observance of the seventieth anniversary of the college in connection with the commencement exercises next June. The resolutions passed giving authority for this work were in language as follows:

Resolved, that the campaign to secure the additional $75,000 needed to complete the $200,000 of endowment be pushed with all possible vigor with a view to its successful issue by January 1, 1916.

Resolved, That we approve the plan to secure $50,000 for building, equipping and maintaining a gymnasium.

Whereas, the close of the present college year will mark the completion of seventy years since the organization of the college in 1846, therefore,

Resolved, That we request the alumnae committee and the alumnae association to co-operate with the executive committee for an appropriate observance of the seventieth anniversary at the next commencement.

Resolved, That we authorize the executive committee to appoint such auxiliary committees and employ such assistance as may be needed to carry out these resolutions.

The trustees of the Illinois Woman's college desire to call the attention of all friends of the college to the imperative and immediate need of additional endowment and equipment, and also to the urgent need of an adequate gymnasium, and they request every friend to make such gifts and sacrifices now as will enable the college to meet these needs within the specified time.

ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE

As a sequel of the robbery of the branch of the Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. at Franklin Wednesday Earl Statts and Herschell Jolly are confined in the county jail on the charge of larceny. Statts was arrested Friday morning by Deputy Sheriff George Stice and brought to the city on the Burlington morning train. He was taken before Justice Dyer and placed under bond in the sum of $500. Being unable to furnish bond he was placed in jail.

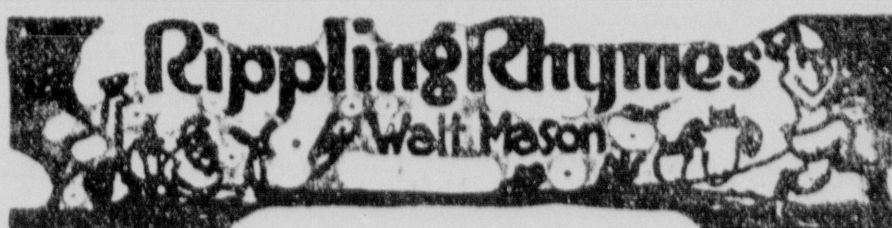

Deputy Stice also had a warrant for Jolly but was unable to locate him. Deputy Sheriff Harry Norris went to Franklin Friday afternoon and placed Jolly under arrest. He was brought here and placed in jail and probably will have a hearing today and bond fixed.

SLANDER.

A little slice of slander will do no end of harm. You say that Alexander has got a wooden arm. The chap who hears you tell it will note the story down, and then he'll go and yell it, with frills, throughout the town. He'll peddle here and yonder, all up and down the line, the tale that Alexander has got a wooden spine. Then Johnning will meander, and tell his neighbor, Gregg, that poor old Alexander has got a wooden leg. And Lyman tells Leander—this way such stories spread—that luckless Alexander has got a wooden head. Then Alexander hears it; a tear streams from his eye; he brands it and he sears it as a confounded lie. He says, "It is no puddin' to wear a scandal wreath; I've got nothing that is wooden about me but my teeth. And now I'll take my claymore and spoil the liars' plans; I'll cripple up or slay more than forty scandal fairs." The town is full of scrapping because that story spread; we hear the wounded yapping, we count the mangled dead. The morgue is full of corpses, the jail is full of jakes; oh reader, hold your horses, and pass along no fakes!

TIDE OF BUSINESS IS RISING AT AN ACCELERATED PACE

Dun's Review States an Era of Widespread Activity is in Prospect.

New York, Oct. 15.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say: "With cross currents diminishing in force, the tide of business is rising at an accelerated pace and an era of widespread activity is in prospect. Usually during a transition period gains are recorded slowly but strictly mercantile conditions have passed the stage where progress is difficult of discernment and of late industrial expansion has been phenomenally rapid. Reports from nearly all sections of the country tell of the unchecked growth of new enterprises which, while manifest in varying degrees in different lines and localities, is everywhere stimulated by the exceptional strength of the fundamental situation. Assurance of agriculture success together with almost unlimited financial resources, has given the commercial world the confidence essential to the development of national prosperity and the notable improvement in sentiment and change of spirit is now more clearly reflected in the volume of current transactions.

The latter with few exceptions are steadily enlarging, as is evidenced by the comparisons of bank clearings, railroad earnings, commodity prices, unfilled steel tonnage, idle freight cars and other statistical barometers.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

In a little book designed for expectant mothers more complete instruction is given in the use of "Mother's Friend." This is an external embrocation applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of reducing the strain on ligaments, cords and tendons. In thus bringing relief and avoiding pain great good is accomplished. It serves to ease the mind, indirectly has a most beneficial effect upon the nervous system and thousands of women have delightedly told how they were free of nausea, had no morning sickness and went through the ordeal with most remarkable success. "Mother's Friend" has been growing in popular favor for more than forty years. In almost every community are grandmothers who used it themselves, their daughters have used it and they certainly must know what a blessing it is when they recommend it so warmly.

It is certainly a most helpful influence for its effect in avoiding all unnecessary pain, enabling the muscles to expand gently and to relax naturally when baby arrives. Strictly an external application it has no other effect than to ease the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments involved hence is perfectly safe to use by all women. It is used very successfully to prevent caking of breasts. "Mother's Friend" is prepared in the laboratory of Bradford Regulator Co., 504 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

Charles C. Jeffries and the Kids.

Everything is moving smoothly in the development of the new Boys' Band which that eminently successful instructor of children's classes, Charles C. Jeffries, is now organizing, and the enthusiasm of the boys has even extended to the mothers.

Some twenty-five of the instruments have been ordered and a half dozen boys are already supplied, and are studying. Among these are Maurice Johnson, flute; Lee Goebel, clarinet; Arthur Brown, melophone; Joseph Donnelly and Albert Arter, trombones and Clarence Boruff, drum.

There will be ten or a dozen reed instrument or wood winds, including also the flute, piccolo and saxophones. And a generous supply of horns, trombones, baritone and basses, as well as the cornets and drums.

The probable membership will include the following names:

George Adams,

John Barbee,

The above photo is that of Jeffries Boys' Band of 1900 and represents one of the most successful classes of the many that Mr. Jeffries has brought into existence. Many of these boys are now fine musicians, making life's way more cheery and bright for those who are privileged to hear them. It will be the aim of Prof. Jeffries to make this new class, which has the distinction of being the youngest in point of years of any yet taught, a model one musically and morally, and morally, and in every way to prepare the minds and bodies of these little fellows to take up the more serious things in life with an understanding of those elements that make for business and social success that will aid them in every battle with the world.

Mr. Jeffries has had the able assistance of Miss Jean Coulter in the organization of this class and she will continue to lend her aid at the rehearsals. Miss Coulter has had some experience as a clarinetist, and is identified with the musical life of the high school.

SEVERAL CRUCIAL GAMES ARE CARDED FOR TODAY

PURDUE MEETS WISCONSIN AT LAFAYETTE.

On the Outcome of Four Games Depends in a Measure, Various Claims to Leading Honors Among the "Big Nine."

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Games, which for so early in the season might be classified as crucial, have places on tomorrow's schedule of football games in the central states. On the outcome of four of them depends, in a measure, various claims to leading honors among the "Big Nine" while on the result of two others hang hopes of pre-eminence in the Missouri Valley. Among the contests carded are the following:

Wisconsin vs Purdue at Lafayette.

Illinois vs Ohio State at Columbus.

Indiana vs Chicago at Chicago.

Northwestern vs Iowa at Iowa City.

South Dakota vs Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Oklahoma vs Missouri at Columbia.

Drake vs Kansas at Lawrence.

Washburn College vs Nebraska at Lincoln.

Kansas Aggies vs Normals at Emporia.

Knox vs St. Louis at St. Louis.

Case vs Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Carroll vs Michigan Aggies at East Lansing.

Freshmen vs Notre Dame at Notre Dame.

Western Reserve vs Ohio Wesleyan at Cleveland.

Kenyon vs Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Akron vs Oberlin at Oberlin.

Coaches agree with critics as to the importance of Purdue's making a good showing against the scoring machine developed at Wisconsin, if the Boilermakers would rank high in the conference and Coach Andy Smith called into service Ed Green, a Pennsylvania star of a year ago, and Ed Hart, former Princeton full back, to help prepare his men for tomorrow's struggle against the strong Badger eleven.

It will be Wisconsin's first clash against a team of Purdue's caliber and the cardinal rooters do not expect the walkovers their idols enjoyed in their two previous games.

Illinois, whose team in point of getting ability is a rival of Wisconsin, is expected to find serious opposition in Ohio's State defense especially with Pogue and Clark likely to be kept out of the game because of injuries.

Coach C. C. Childs has had the assistance of Jim Thorpe, the noted Indian athlete in rounding out Indiana for its annual game with Chicago. A beefy set of forwards compose the Hoosier first line of defense and a speedy back field has reached a high state of efficiency. Against the Indiana forwards, Coach Stag will send a line believed to be as heavy if not as fast as the Hoosiers are reported. Craig Redmon, a 250 pound center and guard, is expected to play in the Marion line against his cousin, John Redmon. With what is believed its strongest team in several years Northwestern hopes to surprise Iowa tomorrow. Special defenses to stop Gross and Garretson have been planned, it is reported and the purple is depending partly upon its ability to frame a chance for one of Driscoll's drop kicks to help its own scoring.

In the Missouri Valley, most followers of the game will watch for the scores of the Missouri-Oklahoma battle and the Kansas-Drake contest, on which may be based estimates of the relative strength of the teams in that territory.

The Kansas Aggies in the normal eleven and Nebraska, in Washburn, should find opponents unlikely to force the use of full power.

Against South Dakota, Minnesota's strong team is not expected to have an easy time, the the Gophers should win and while Case is likely to present a hard argument to Michigan the Wolverines ought to be victorious by a decisive margin if they put their best strength in the field.

The Michigan Aggies in Carroll expect only a practice game, while Notre Dame will give its yearling eleven a tryout.

TAKE MEASURE TO PREVENT SPECULATION IN PRICES

Mexico City Merchants Are Required to Withdraw Supplies From Public Warehouses Within Fifteen Days After Their Receipt.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The Carranza agency here tonight announced that a decree had been issued requiring merchants in Mexico City to withdraw all supplies from public warehouses within fifteen days after their receipt, so as to prevent speculation in prices. The order also stipulated that storage charges be paid on a gold basis.

A cablegram from Merida, Yucatan, to the agency said a new corporation capitalized at $100,000,000 had been formed, comprising all the principal producers of sisal hemp in the states of Yucatan and Campeche. This corporation absorbs the regulating commission of the Henequen market which was a government organization and is said to be designed to assure stability of price and stop speculation. Miguel Diaz Lombardo in behalf of the Villa agency, gave out a statement tonight saying that while not officially advised he was certain there had not been and would not be any confiscations of property in Villa territory.

A WORTHY VETERAN.

Joshua DeLong, of Murrayville precinct, was trading in the city yesterday. Mr. DeLong is one of the survivors of the Civil war of which he saw some four years of service. He first enlisted in Co. B, 13th Ohio Infantry in 1861 and was successively in the 4th and 11th regiments. He was at Atlanta, at this time the brave Gen. McPherson was killed and was afterward in the command of Gen. O. O. Howard. He was in the famous march to the sea and to Washington for the grand review.

He says his worst battle was an actual hand to hand encounter Oct. 23, 1862, at Corinth, Miss. In that fearful engagement the colonel, Kirby Smith, the adjutant of the regiment and fifteen captains and lieutenants lost their lives. The company was later commanded by Lieut. Wager Swain, who was promoted when the captain was killed and the lieutenant lost a leg in a battle in South Carolina. All the field officers of his regiment were killed or disabled and the ranking captain, Horace Parks of Co. A, took command.

As the government was anxious to secure the services of as many veterans as possible to help break in the new volunteers, special efforts were made in that line and Mr. DeLong enlisted the second time on a battlefield in Tennessee.

Although well along in years the worthy veteran is still in good health and able to get about in a lively manner and bids fair to be able to tell of his service for several years to come.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

RUMORS THAT DARDANELLES WILL BE STOPPED LIFTS WHEAT
St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Suggestion that Great Britain and France would abandon the attempt to open the Dardanelles resulted today in a quick advance in wheat values here. The market closed unsettled but 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c net higher, with December at $1.08 and May at $1.08 1/2.

DEALINGS IN STOCKS FALL FAR BELOW THE MILLION SHARE MARK
New York, Oct. 15.—Perhaps the most significant feature of today's trading was the fact that dealings fell far below the million share mark, sales amounting to only 885,000 shares.

There were further indications of an abatement of public interest, commission houses being far less prominent in the day's operations. Evidently the warnings recently emanating from responsible quarters which pointed to the danger arising from a continuance of the speculative mania were bearing fruit. Westinghouse, the most active issue of the day, American Smelting and American Can, comprised the few elements of actual strength, United States Steel showing further pressure. Some of the rails were firm for a time, notably Canadian Pacific, the Anthracites, Union Pacific and Erie, but St. Paul, Chicago Northwestern, New Haven, Illinois Central and Chesapeake & Ohio, were variably lower.

As usual, the selling movement gathered force in the later dealings, most advances in specialties then being changed to losses, with general heaviness elsewhere.

The closing was heavy with an abrupt decline in Rock Island. South Porto Sugar with a further gain of 19 points to 150 was among the few outstanding issues of the day.

A BIG AUCTION LOT SALE

ON THE PREMISES

AT JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS,

Monday, October 18th, at 2 P.M.

Having acquired the Andras Homestead, extending from South Main street to East street, we are now having it platted and subdivided into attractive building lots and will sell them at auction on the above date.

Rain or Shine and on Easy Terms

One-third Cash, Balance One and Two Years

The plot of ground is bordered on three sides with brick streets, having also adequate sewer connections, and accessible to all parts of the city by good street car service. It is located near enough to the business center to satisfy the most exacting business man and far enough away to enjoy the quietude and silence of a good residence section.

Every person acquainted with real estate in Jacksonville knows that these lots will never become less valuable than they are now. It is the only vacant ground near the business section of a city with 18000 population and still growing. This property has been in demand for many years, but not until now could it be bought and an opportunity for the investor, the home-seeker and the speculator will be offered for the first time on this coveted plot of ground.

Mr. Farmer: This is your opportunity to come in and get in on the ground floor; instead of waiting and buying from the other fellows at a big profit; you expect to come to the city and spend the remainder of your days to get the benefit of good schools, good churches; etc. To miss this opportunity will be the regret of your life

To the Young Man who wants to take the first step toward getting a start for a home, this is a chance. The terms will be easy. Buy your lot and the rest will be easy.

Don't think Jacksonville will ever quit growing. The population will steadily increase. The business section will spread and real estate increase in value. Four great railways, giving Jacksonville thirty trains daily. Twenty-five miles of paved streets. Four banks, giving the entire county the very best of banking facilities. Twenty-three churches and eighteen schools and colleges. Three great state institutions, speak for the perpetuity of the city prosperity. One hundred and twenty-five concerns manufacturing various articles and products. A wide awake chamber of commerce, pushing Jacksonville forward. These are only a few of the many things which can be said about Jacksonville, "The Athens of the west." Her well kept lawns, handsome homes and beautiful parks have given her the well earned name, "City Beautiful."

Why not invest in real estate, which promises so much for the investor? The population of the United States doubles every 27 years and real estate can only go in one direction, and that is higher and higher. Real estate is the best investment on earth, and city lots are the cream—and these lots are the cream of Jacksonville.

Come Out and Hear the Great Auctioneer, Col. C. P. Martin, and Your Distinguished Local Auctioneer, Col. Cox.

A Big Band Concert will Take Place on the Ground and Many Other Things to Enliven the Occasion and Entertain.

Ladies, You are Especially Invited. The Occasion Will be Incomplete Without You.

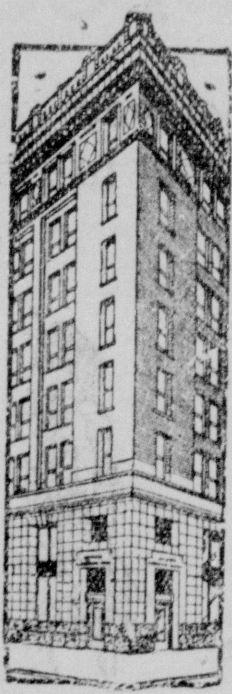

Everybody Come!
Don't Forget Date!

VOTING CONTEST FOR CHILDREN'S BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Young People Here Given "Choice of Twenty-Fifth Book—Story Hours to Begin—Starred Fiction for Children.

Recently three of the Chicago papers have been running contests on "Choosing the Twenty-fifth Book." The contests were occasioned by the fact that the New Jersey Library Commission requested Mr. Legler, librarian of the Chicago public library to make a list of books which from his wide experience every boy should read. Mr. Legler is a discreet man. He ventured to name twenty-four of these books, but wisely he hesitated to name the twenty-fifth "best" book, for he had many cherished volumes.

In an editorial the Herald says, "Mr. Legler was frankly personal in his selections and because he followed his own good taste, the list is hard to assail. Other friends of youth might make other selections." Therefore the contests. Hundreds of letters have been received at the offices of the various Chicago papers and a number of prizes have been given for the best reasons for selecting the twenty-fifth book.

A corresponding list has been made for girls and both of these lists may be consulted at the Public Library here. Indeed the children's librarian has made an attractive bulletin listing the books and will be very glad to take any votes for the twenty fifth.

Story Hour to Begin.

The regular story hours will begin next Wednesday. The children at the Library have been asking about the stories for some time. Miss Cox will tell a Norse folk tale and a Greek myth. These stories at the Library are very carefully selected. Miss Cox feels that they should be much more than mere entertainment, that they should give the children standards for judging other stories which they read. If a masterpiece is told at the Story Hour, the children very naturally say when they are thinking about a book which they are reading, "Well, that is almost, but not quite as good as the story we heard on Wednesday."

Starred Fiction.

Because the list of books is somewhat limited in the children's room and there are boys and girls from fourteen to sixteen who "have read everything they care to," a few titles on the adult shelves have been starred and when the children's librarian knows that one of the older boys or girls has really read most of the books suited to him in the children's room she sometimes suggests that a starred book from upstairs be taken out.

The shelves upstairs are open naturally to any child for school work and the past two weeks they have contributed generously on James the First and the founding of Jamestown; but the fiction downstairs is more carefully selected and much better suited to young people.

The children's librarian is always glad to have grown people visit the children's room and is especially happy to have parents keep in touch with the children's reading.

GAVE LARGE GIFT

TO BUY MEDICAL BOOKS. A LaSalle citizen has made a gift of $10,000, the interest of which is to be used in buying medical books for the public library. The gift must certainly be appreciated by the people of that city and especially the doctors. Jacksonville is fortunate in having a medical library from which the public can draw books at any time, but one of the physicians was remarking yesterday when he heard of the donation to the LaSalle library that any gift along that line to the local library would be highly appreciated and would be money spent in a splendid manner.

PREPARED FOR HARD GAME AT NORMAL

COACH HARMON AND SQUAD WILL LEAVE THIS MORNING.

What is Considered by Football Prophets as a Crucial Game in Conference Will be Played by Two Teams—Normal Determined to Annex Contest.

While Illinois had a desperate game against Lombard College last Saturday as hard a struggle is expected this afternoon at Normal when the University eleven of Coach Russell will measure strength with Coach Harmon's veterans. This game is of much importance to Illinois for if she wins, it will be another round in the championship ladder as two of the worst enemies will have been eliminated. Normal is fast as was demonstrated in their game last Saturday against Millikin, when they were defeated by one touch down and Normal claims "it was luck which turned for the Millikins. That Normal considers the game a hard one is evidenced from the following note on the game from the Bloomington Bulletin:

Normal, too, has the toughest kind of game scheduled for Saturday. Illinois college with ten veterans in her line-up are picked by many to win the conference title and Russell and Williams will be well satisfied if their men can hold the Jacksonville outfit to a tie score. The same team that finished against Millikin Saturday is slated to get a chance against Illinois at the start tomorrow on the Normal campus. Despite his injured rib, Bowyer is out every night and expects to be able to play tomorrow. Hacker, however, is out for the season.

Coach Harmon will have practically his same lineup which was used against Lombard and baring a few bruises the squad is in first class shape. The men expect to leave this morning over the Alton and will return Saturday night.

Other Games Today.

Other games of the minor conference which will be played today are: Wesleyan vs Lombard at Galesburg. Macomb Normal vs William and Vashit.

Millikin at Shirliff.

Bradley Wins. The Eureka football team proved an easy victim for Bradley in the game Friday the score being 29 to 0.

NORMAL HIGH PLAYS JACKSONVILLE TODAY

TEAMS WILL CLASH ON ILLINOIS FIELD.

J. H. S. Men are Expecting a Hard Battle Against the Strong Team of McLean County—Larson Will Referee Game.

Coach Huber has been putting his men through a hard practice in anticipation of the game this afternoon, against Normal High. The visitors are accounted strong and with the extra steam which has been put on the locals some struggle can be looked for when Referee Larson blows his whistle at 2:30. The players came out of the Carlinville game in pretty fair shape except for one or two men and baring a few bruises, the team is in first class shape.

Coach Huber has announced the following lineup:

Right tackle—Robinson.
Right guard—Scott.
Center—Sorell.
Left guard—King.
Left tackle—Arter.
Left end—Ferguson.
Right half back—Priest.
Left half back—Reynolds.
Quarter back—H. Reynolds.
Full back—Herring.

The high school band will furnish the music of the afternoon and the rosters club is expected to keep things moving during the four quarters.

SIGMA PI LITERARY SOCIETY HAS MEETING

At the regular meeting of Sigma Pi Literary society Friday evening at Beecher hall a good program was rendered and the question of unemployment was warmly discussed in debate. Next Friday night officers will be elected for the ensuing semester. The program: Declaimer—Bullard, "Napoleon at the Pyramids." Readers—Henry Caldwell, "The First Impulse," and Clyde Land, "The Escape." Essays—Everett, Whisler, "School Teaching," and Robert Foster, "The Mississippi." Extemporizer—Ernest Alford, "Normal vs. Illinois." Question for debate: Resolved, the municipalities should furnish aid to the unemployed in times of depression. Edward Alexander and Earl Shaffer composed the negative team and William Berryman and Harry McLaughlin, the negative. The decision was awarded the negative. The house voted the merits of the question to the affirmative side.

CARL COAKLEY CREATES EXCITEMENT AT CITY HALL

Carl Coakley, assistant fire chief, went out hunting Friday. When he returned home he was attempting to unload his shotgun in the police station. The gun was a Winchester pump pattern and for some reason the trigger wouldn't work or else
Carl was not familiar with its mechanism. He finally went out in front of the station and started to work with the gun. Fire Chief Hunt and Driver Henry Smith were standing in front of the fire department. Suddenly the gun was discharged and the load struck the brick pavement and glanced. Chief Hunt received five shots in his side and Smith got one in the leg. Neither man was seriously injured, the shot that struck Chief Hunt just breaking the skin.

After the first discharge Coakley evidently got excited and turned the barrel of the gun in the other direction. It was discharged again and desk sergeant Kiloran who had just stepped out in front to see what the trouble was nearly tore the door off of the police station going back inside. Kiloran thought that Coakley had lost his mind and was shooting up the neighborhood. Coakley says he is going to take some lessons in the manipulation of fire arms before he goes hunting again.

FRED ZEPPENFELD'S BROTHER FELL IN BATTLE AT YPRES

One of Ten Killed by a Single Shell—Papers Sent Home to Prepare For Closing His Estate.

Fred Zeppenfeld, of this city, has received papers from the British war office to fill out on account of the death of his brother, Phillip Alfred Zeppenfeld. Zeppenfeld was a member of the Second battalion West Riding regiment and went into service with the first expeditionary force of the English government in August, 1914. He was killed at Ypres on April 18, 1915.

Zeppenfeld had been a member of the regular British army before the outbreak of the present conflict. He had served four years in the East Indies and was on the reserve list. He was among the first of the reservists called out. According to information received by his brother, Fred Zepp-enfeld, he was one of ten men killed by one shell.

The papers received by Fred Zeppenfeld were sent to be signed up in order that the dead man's estate could be settled. Prior to being called out he had been living with an aunt.
It is the intention of Fred and Henry Zeppenfeld to waive all rights to whatever estate he may have and let it be given to the aunt.

NIECE OF MRS. ROBERT HOCKENHULL DIES AT HOME IN OKLAHOMA

Mrs. Robert M. Hockenhuill has been informed of the death of her niece, Mrs. Alice Carey (Grant) Patterson, which occurred at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, Oct.
7, at her home in Oklahoma City, Okla.

From a recent paper published in the home city of the deceased, the following obituary is reproduced.

"Mrs. Frederick E. Patterson, whose death occurred at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, was the eldest daughter of ex-Mayor Whit M.
Grant and Mrs. Kate Weagley
Grant. She was born in Davenport Iowa December 15, 1871, and at the time of her death had attained to the age of thirty-six years. In the year 1889 the family removed to Oklahoma City, where Mrs. Patterson, then Miss Alice Carey Grant, attended the public schools and graduated from the high school in June, 1897, after which she spent one year at Potter College in Bowling Green, Ky., and a year at the Monticello Seminary, at Godfrey, Ill.
Her second diploma was awarded her at Miss Gordon's school for girls in Philadelphia.

On June 19, 1901, Miss Grant was married to Frederick E. Patterson of this city, now a member of the firm of Patterson & Hoffman. The wedding was a brilliant social event, for Miss Grant had been one of the greatest belles in the social history of the city. To the days of her departure for Denver, Colo., three years ago, she was one of the most popular women in society, endeared as she was to a large circle of friends by her generosity, her delightful spirit of hospitality, her unfailing good humor and her sparkling wit. Before her departure for Colorado Mrs. Patterson was a member of a number of the leading social clubs of the city. Twice in two years Mrs. Patterson came home for brief visits with her family. A few months ago her condition became alarming and three weeks ago she was brought to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson had one son, Frederick Jr., who died April 4, 1907, at the age of 4 years.
Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the residence of the father of the deceased,
W. M. Grant, at 417 Thirteenth street.
